

Imagine an elegant and intuitive website where your visitors can easily find the information they need. Imagine saving time and money by doing more of your business online. Our team of talented and experienced designers, editors, and programmers can create your professional web presence, online store, course registration system, e-learning courses, and more.

Professional Website Design

The Web Projects team has helped many departments and government agencies establish or bolster their web presence. We can help with all phases of site development from information architecture and navigation to design and programming tasks.

Web Applications

Would your department like to conduct more business online? Our Media Solutions programming team has helped many groups lighten their workload by offering more information and services via the Web. They are adept at using a variety of programming languages and database tools.

Presentations

When the stakes are high, a professional presentation can make a big difference. Let our experts partner with you to create the perfect PowerPoint, Keynote or Flash presentation to showcase your project or organization.

Typical Deliverables

Custom Websites	Website Maintenance
Web Applications	Templates
Databases and Forms	E-Commerce
Web Content Solutions	Presentations

Webmaster	Consulting

Searchable Databases

Are you publishing detailed data in reports or schedules? If so, a searchable database may help visitors more easily locate the information they need. Do you routinely use forms to gather information? If so, consider moving them online.

E- Learning

Are you interested in providing media-rich training via the Web or on CD or DVD? If so, Media Solutions can help. We can integrate your instruction, photos, audio, and video elements into a cohesive whole.

Course Catalogs and Registration

Does your department need to register visitors for courses or conferences? We have built a number of custom registration systems to meet varied needs.

Improving Accessibility

The University of Utah is committed to providing access to its information resources to everyone. Our experts can help you design and maintain your websites using principles and techniques that enhance usability for everyone, including those with disabilities.
